Glades General has power outage

Glades General Hospital in Belle Glade was without power for approximately 20 to 25 minutes last Thursday morning after a storm knocked out power to several areas of Belle Glade and South Bay.

Hospital Administrator Neil Whipkey said auxiliary power kicked on for approximately 25 minutes and then went down.

"It had the potential for being an emergency situation," said Mr. Whipkey, "but fortunately it wasn't."

One pediatric patient was diverted to Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee while Glades General was without power, but Mr. Whipkey said that was the only problem they had during that time.

Florida Power and Light officials are still looking into the cause of the auxiliary power failure and it is believed the cause may have been a faulty circuit breaker.

Applications available

The Belle Glade-Junior Woman's Club and Palm Beach Community College/Glades will be sponsoring the Eighth Annual Tiny and Little Mr. and Miss Black Gold Contest on March 26.

Children will be judged in two age divisions: Tiny Mr. and Miss (3-4 years of age) and Little Mr. and Miss (5-6 years of age). The contest is open to all children who live in Western Palm Beach County or who attend Glades area schools.

Applications are available at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, Burger King, Little Bit & More and Shearson Lehman Brothers, Inc. The deadline to have your applications turned in is March 19.

SW board meeting time changed

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Southwest Subdistrict Board (Glades General Hospital) has been changed from 7 p.m. on February 18 to 11 a.m., according to hospital Administrator Neil Whipkey.

The Health Care District meeting is open to the public.

Police to do traffic enforcement

The Belle Glade Police Department has begun an enhanced traffic enforcement program.

This Traffic Enforcement Program will concentrate on safety violations in school zones, residential areas and major thoroughfares, according to Michael Miller, Director of Public Safety.

Officer Richard Kyser has been assigned to Motor One which is a 1992 Harley Davidson fully equipped police motorcycle with all its specialized equipment.

The goal of this program is to promote traffic safety through education and enforcement, said Mr. Miller.

Animal Rights activists protest at circus

By Brenda Bunting

Editor

The Great American Circus performed at two packed shows Monday night in Belle Glade and delivered what they called "miles of smiles" to area children viewing their first three ring circus.

The animals and the circus, which travels year-round from Miami to Maine and sets up in 298 cities was met by animal rights activists from West Palm Beach.

About a dozen members of the Animal Rights Foundation of Florida carried signs saying the circus was the "Cruelest Show on Earth" and "Stop the Elephant Killers".

Nanci Alexander, president of the ARF, said she believed their presence made a difference.

"We made them stop and think," she said. "We feel successful. We had more people turn away here than we have had at bigger circus," she added.

Scott Kammel, director of the Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens, the group which sponsored the circus, said he didn't appreciate the animal rights activists tactics and the way they spoke to the children trying to get into the event.

"I felt if they wanted to See circus, page 3

League says govt ignored lawsuit

The Federal Government refuses to acknowledge that former U.S. Attorney Dexter Lehtinen lacked a client and failed to follow the law when he filed the three-year-old Everglades lawsuit, according to officials with the Florida Sugar Cane League.

This failure could jeopardize the future of the Everglades Settlement Agreement, according to the League, and cause the lawsuit to be dismissed.

"We have waited for more than a year and made repeated requests to the federal government to show the public that Mr. Lehtinen in fact had received proper authorization to initiate the lawsuit," said William Earl, attorney for the League.

"We have now received a 29-page document from them in which they simply thumb their noses at our request and have, in effect, told us they don't need to show us their authority."

According to Earl, all lawyers must have a client who gives them authorization to file civil lawsuits. Lawyers, including the U.S. Attorney, cannot simply initiate the action on their own. "We can find no case anywhere in the United States in which another U.S. Attorney initiated an action under similar circumstances," Earl said.

The Florida Sugar Cane League, which represents more than 80 percent of Florida's sugar farmers, filed a request in Federal District Court last December asking the government to make public the authority under which the acting U.S. Attorney filed the Everglades lawsuit against the State of Florida.

Federal administrative rules require that the department which has jurisdiction, in this case the Department of the Interior, hold hearings to determine if harm was caused to the Everglades which would warrant a civil lawsuit. If the hearing determined a problem existed, then a formal request would have to be made to the Department of Justice. From there, the U.S. Attorney's office in Miami would file the suit.

The Florida Sugar Cane League says no hearings were Don't go...Members of the Animal Rights Foundation of Florida urged those attending the Great American Circus Monday night not to go into the tent, claiming circus officials were cruel to the animals and wild animals should not be captured and used for entertainment. Despite their protests, the show under the big top was packed for two performances.

Two incumbents qualify for commission seats

By Brenda Bunting

Editor

Two commissioners in South Bay will retain their seats on the commission after drawing no opposition this week.

Mayor Clarence Anthony and Vice Mayor Willie Marshall filed unopposed last week and will be returned for another two year term to the city commission.

Clarence Anthony

Mr. Anthony and Mr. Marshall both qualified last week for their fifth terms.

Mr. Anthony, age 30, is the president of C.E. Anthony & Associates, Inc., a consulting firm. He has served as mayor for the city for seven of his eight years on the commission.

He is currently president of the Suncoast Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Economic Council of Palm Beach County.

Mr. Marshall, age 41, is a foreman for Talisman Sugar Corporation and is active in his church, New Bethel AME in South Bay.

Both say they are proud of the progress South Bay has made in the last two years, including the development of an RV Park, the new South Bay library, which will be named after Mr. Anthony, and the plans for boat ramp facilities on the north side of the city.

Mr. Marshall said plans are also in the works for new low income housing in the city. He said over 100 people have already applied for the housing.

"I think if we can get these things done, we'll be able to attract more commercial business."

Walker named Citizen of the Year in Pahokee

By Bill Phillips

Staff reporter

Carlene Walker was named Citizen of the Year at the forty-first annual dinner and awards banquet held by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce last Friday night.

"Mrs. Walker, who is a city commissioner worked diligently toward making Pahokee a better place in which to live and work," said Kathryn E. Cunningham, last year's winner. "She worked along with her sorority to beautify the city, and came up with the beautiful July 4th fireworks display; was responsible for the new flagpoles atop the dike and worked with the Pahokee Garden Club in obtaining Queen Palm Trees to line the top of the dike. She was also responsible for Operation Clean-sweep; adopt a park, worked with the Pahokee Patriots; is a recipient of the prestigious Paul Harris Rotary Award; worked on the Grassy Waters Festival, and on the Christmas Parade. She is most deserving of this honor," concluded Mrs. Cunningham.

President's awards went to Marlene Crosby and David Sanders.

Business of the year award was given to U.S. Sugar, Corp.

Ida Mae Lampi received the volunteer of the year award for volunteering more than 20,000 hours at Everglades Memorial Hospital as an auxiliary worker.

Distinguished service awards were given to the Pahokee Patriots, accepted by Ramon Horta on behalf of all involved in the project and to Bess McIlwain.

Holiday Decorations Awards were also given at the banquet.

Outgoing officers of the Chamber of Commerce for 1991 are President Sandra L. Jarriel, Vice-President David E. Sanders, Treasurer Bess McIlwain, and Secretary Marlene Crosby.

The new officers for 1992 will be President Steve Baumgartner, Vice-President Alice Thompson, Treasurer Mary Thomas and Secretary Marlene Crosby.

In his closing message to the audience Mr. Baumgartner expressed concern that the media failed to see the importance of the big blue lake and the surrounding communities involvement in a positive way in Palm Beach County. "I'd love to see the media report more positive stories from the Glades and not just the negative," he concluded.

Public Notice

The Board of Directors of the Housing Authority of the City of Belle Glade will meet for a regular meeting on February 18, 1992 at 2 p.m. in the administrative office, Osceola Center, 1204 N.W. Ave. L Terrace, Belle Glade, Florida.

Department of Labor to see Okeelanta and Osceola Farms Co.

Okeelanta Corporation and Osceola Farms Company announced today a program of after-hours visits by officials of the U.S. Department of Labor to meet with the companies' H2A workers.

"The Department has asked us to allow them to meet with the workers in an unstructured and informal way to receive their questions and comments," said Joseph P. Klock, general counsel for the company.

"We are delighted to accommodate this request, welcome the visits by members of the Department's Wage and Hour Division, and will provide them whatever help we can," Klock said. "Throughout the season, we have encouraged all our workers to voice their concerns to us or their foreign labor supervisor. If any issues come up in the meetings with the Department of Labor, we stand ready to deal with them quickly."

Klock said the companies' policy calls for open and immediate access to its camps.

Representatives of Okeelanta and Osceola are working for a passage of a Florida Senate bill that would require all farm labor camp operators to provide the same open access it provides to social service agencies and others working on farm workers' behalf without and prior notice.

Toss the Boss... Former Lake Shore Middle School Principal Barbara Altman, now principal of North Grade Elementary School in Lake Worth, was a participant in WRMF Radio Station's Toss the Boss event. Her faculty members nominated her to parachute from an airplane Feb. 8. Mrs. Altman made the jump with out any injuries. She was met with roses and a balloon from her co-workers.

Hurston Museum features Miami's Overtown Exhibit

until the late 1960's, was the end of the line for the Black entertainers' Florida circuit, which included Belle Glade's "Pal Club" on South Main Street. The singers, musicians and dancers who performed on the circuit form a hall-of-fame of African performers: Count Basie, Ella Fitzgerald, Cab Calloway, Louis Armstrong, Joseph Baker and many more.

Historic photographs and lobby posters from the Knight Beat Club at the Sir John Hotel in Miami are contained in an exhibit from the Florida Humanities Council that will be featured in The Meeting Place, temporary location of the Zora Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum, throughout the month of February.

For three decades, North West 2nd Avenue between 6th and 10th Streets in the African American Community of Overtown was host to dozens of great performances. Many of the performers came originally for engagements in Miami Beach nightclubs. However, racial segregation prohibited these entertainers from sleeping in hotels in white communities. So, in return for lodgings, these performers travelled across town for late night shows in Overtown.

This historic community enjoyed its greatest commercial success when promoter Clyde Killens became manager of the Knight Beat Club at the Sir John Hotel in 1961. Already an experienced manager of other night clubs, Killens had been a business and civic leader in Overtown for nearly four decades. Almost single-handedly, Killens transformed Miami's "other-side-of-the-tracks" area into a thriving cultural center. Many celebrities such as Joe Louis, Paul Robeson, Jackie Robinson and Thurgood Marshall, regularly dropped in to see the shows.

With the civil rights advances of the 1960's, African Americans no longer faced legal restrictions in their choice of hotels. Entertainers who previously dropped in to see the shows.

An exhibit reception is planned for 4:00 p.m. Sunday, formed in Miami Beach could also spend the night there. With the changing decades, Overtown ceased to be an "after-hours" district. For its remaining years, the Knight Beat club offered a comfortable environment to African American and White patrons alike.

Although increasingly difficult to compete with larger clubs, the Knight Beat club remained a favorite for performers.

The demolition of the Sir John Hotel twenty years ago is just one of Miami's many changes. When the city was incorporated less than one hundred years ago, 44 of Miami's 368 voters were African American. As the bustling metropolis becomes more and more an international trade center, what shall we remember about "Little Broadway"?

And, in Belle Glade, what shall we remember about The Palms Club?

The "Overtown - Little Broadway" exhibit is a small slice of Miami's history. It has been curated from the collection of Night Beat manager Clyde Killens—a collection that contains over 100 framed lobby posters and photographs and is now part of the archives of The Black Archives History and Research Foundation of South Florida, Inc.

The Hurston Museum permanent exhibit from the Sarasota Doll Collection is also on display.

An exhibit reception is planned for 4:00 p.m. Sunday, February 23 in The Meeting Place, 325 S. W. 4th Street, Belle Glade. For additional information contact Cartheda Konchellah at 996-2161.

conducted and it can find no record of the authority required for the U.S. Attorney to file the lawsuit.

It was suggested that acting U.S. Attorney Dexter Lehtinen acted on his own, without proper authority.

The League contends that twice the Government delayed answering their request for information and last week filed the 29-page document outlining why it would not answer their request.

The U.S. Attorney's office takes up 29 pages making allegations and innuendos, and figuratively pounding its fists on the table, but doesn't offer a single shred of written evidence to show it had authority to file the case," Earl said.

"Instead, it asks Judge William Hoeveler to interpret quotes from editorials, press releases and news clippings as 'statements of support by federal agency officials, and an 'ineluctable inference' that then-acting U.S. Attorney Dexter Lehtinen had received approval from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Interior and Agriculture Departments, and the EPA to pursue the Everglades matter on their behalf."

The Florida Sugar Cane League said the U.S. Attorney's office has refused to allow it to question officials of these agencies as to their roles in the Everglades case and as to whether they agree with the lawsuit allegations that their resource protection contracts with state agencies have been breached.

"Mr. Lehtinen's actions are unprecedented," Earl said. "No other case has been found in which a U.S. Attorney has filed such a lawsuit on another federal agency's contract or matters Congress has delegated to other federal agencies without that agency's knowledge or request," Earl said.

"This is what Mr. Lehtinen did in this case. The U.S. Attorney's response to our motion clearly indicates there was no authorization."

Well, this time the United States showed those Japanese and all these other countries how the American workers just can get together.

All these other people ought to get together in the United States and quit buying this Japanese "made in Japan" and other foreign goods and buy U.S. A. and put a stop to all of this mess.

Put all the American workers back to work. It's that easy.

Valentine's Day

Dia De Los Enamorados

Febrero 14. Prologo y epilogo.

Un mandamiento nuevo os doy: que os améis los unos a los otros como Yo os he amado. Juan 15:12.

Estamos hechos para amar. Lo exige, en forma tajante, el mandato expreso de Dios, transmitido por Su Divino Hijo, nuestro Señor Jesucristo. Lo exige la propia naturaleza humana.

El amor es la fuerza que mueve todo los resortes que infunden vida. Es la fuerza que mueve el Sol, astro luminoso, centro de nuestro sistema planetario, que calienta los campos y hace brotar las mises del sembrado y exclamar al enamorado, a la sombra de un ciprés, que "ella es tan linda como un Sol". Rige los movimientos de la Luna, planeta satélite de la Tierra, cuya atracción — combinada con la del Sol — produce el vaivén de las mareas e ilumina, durante la noche, el estro de los poetas, que al influjo de su penumbra cantan al amor.

Sería desconocer los cauces del amor si lo redujerámos a la pasión que sienten, unos por otros, hombres y mujeres. Amamos, esencialmente, a Dios. Las madres a sus hijos y estos a sus padres y hermanos. El recuerdo de nuestros seres queridos, vivos y muertos. El que ama a la patria tal vez muera por ella, y el martirio succumbre por amor. Tal vez nuestros maestros y amigos — si sabremos de eso los cubanos, asidios a nuestro calvario — vivan lejos y no sepamos de ellos. Sin embargo, estamos con ellos en una convivencia simbólica. Nuestra alma parece dilatarse prodigiosamente, salvar las distancias, y estar donde estén, nos sentimos adheridos a sus personas. Amar es vivificación permanente, creación y conservación, tener claridad de lo amado.

Muchas son sus vías de expresión. Un ademán de ayuda, una palabra sincera, una mano extendida, sin condiciones. La sonrisa que acoge, sin recelo, dando carta de crédito al próximo.

Solo se ama lo que es digno de ser amado. Como explicar, pues, que el amor concluya, si el amor permanece idéntico. En la mayoría de los casos, pudiera ser que su nacimiento fuere producto de una equivocación. No debemos olvidar que una cosa es gustarse y otra es amarse. Lo primero es un febril acercamiento de los sentidos y lo segundo una auténtica identificación de cuerpo y alma.

Grandes conmociones pueden producir un cambio en nuestras personalidades que nos tuerzan el destino. Si sabremos, también de eso, los cubanos. Eramos un pueblo cristiano y siempre alegre, amante del hogar y la familia, unido por el amor. "Mas vinieron chascadas perversas en la noche negra, quebrando las sombras con voces extrañas. Despertaron rencores dormidos, avivaron envidias calladas, sembraron discordias amargas".

Los comunistas — siempre hay que usar, miserables, esa maldita palabra — en su obstinada afán de extirpar el amor del corazón del hombre, han hecho derramar a raudales la sangre, simbolo natural del sacrificio.

Dolor y amor! Juntos se hacen invencibles. Los dos son vida, los dos engendran vida, los dos propagan la vida.

Hospice barbecue a great success

Dear Editor:

As you drive by the local Hospice office on Avenue E and you can't explain the glow coming from the office windows — it probably is because our first ever fundraiser was a smashing success. Thanks to the efforts of many local volunteers, the Hospice Awareness Benefit Barbecue, that was held at the Belle Glade Marina, raised money to help Hospice of Palm Beach County care for the terminally ill patients and their families in the Glades area.

So much interest was shown during the barbecue that a local Hospice Guild has been formed so that money can be given in memory of local people who have benefited from the Hospice program now can be kept locally to help with our local people.

Our first order of business will be to have a membership drive. We plan to contact the people who showed support for the Hospice program and hopefully we will be able to spread the awareness of this unique program throughout the community. It is a program that can benefit each and every one of us either through direct use or indirect use. The Guild plans to hold various fundraisers from now until May. Information on these events or becoming a member of the Guild will be available through the local office.

Hospice of Palm Beach County is a non-profit organization which provides medical, emotional, psychological and spiritual services for terminally ill patients and their families. No patient is turned away due to their inability to pay for care. Volunteer opportunities are available and Hospice provides speakers to groups at no charge.

In addition to the nearly 1,000 people who attended the barbecue the following businesses made donations so that the expenses could be kept at a minimum: Bank of Pahokee, Hugh Glade, Inc., Bank of Belle Glade, Foodland of Pahokee, E.L. Pope Farms, The Port Committee, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Lake Hardware, Fat Boy's Barbecue, WAFC Radio, Oldies 94 Radio, R.C. Hatton, Inc., Bennett Funeral Home, Dixie Fried Chicken, U-Save, Flowers Bread Co., Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club, South Bay Growers, Belle Glade Wholesale, Collins Pit BBQ and WBGF Radio.

A special thanks to the Christian Day Crusader Choir "Cornerstone" under the direction of Robin Waggoner for providing such inspirational entertainment for our guests at the barbecue.

Lupus support group has formed

Dear Editor:

I have systemic lupus erythematosus (lupus). When the doctor told me that I had a chronic, incurable, potentially fatal disease of the immune system which could cause my body to self-destruct, I went into a panic. Since then I have learned that with proper treatment most lupus patients can live a normal lifespan.

Lupus is not contagious, and it is not cancer. In lupus the immune system, which is suppose to protect the body against environmental and infectious agents, turns against itself and attacks and destroys healthy tissue.

Although lupus is not a well known disease, it is more prevalent than muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, leukemia, and cystic fibrosis. It is more widespread among black women than sickle cell anemia. Lupus affects all races, age groups, socio-economic groups, and both sexes. However, ninety percent of lupus patients are women, with the usual age of onset being between 16 and 30.

Without treatment even a mild case of lupus may become life-threatening, as it attacks internally, damaging or destroying any organ which is targeted. More than 6,000 people die from lupus each year.

Symptoms vary but can include joint pain, muscle aches, skin rash, photosensitivity, hair loss, inflammation of the membranes around the heart or lungs, anemia, fatigue, blood abnormalities, kidney involvement, and others.

I found that with lupus I could look healthy and well, even when I was very ill. This paradox caused misunderstandings among relatives and friends, who could not understand how I could be ill and look so well. I have found that many lupus patients feel isolated and alone because of the lack of understanding they encounter.

In 1984 I founded the L.E. Support Club, a world-wide, non-profit organization dedicated to bringing help and understanding to lupus patients. The L.E. Support Club publishes a newsletter, the L.E. BEACON, which prints up-to-date, informative articles on the subjects which are important to lupus patients. The cost of printing the newsletter is paid for by the tax deductible dues and contributions of members and concerned friends.

Anyone who would like more information on the L.E. Support Club, Inc., should send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for more information to:

Pahokee Chamber hosts forty-first annual ceremony

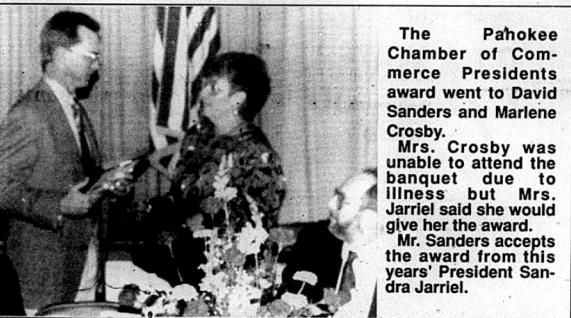

Pahokee's new mayor....Ramon Horta far right with wife Maria, center, talk with County Commissioner Ken Foster about the March 10th referendum and why citizens should be encouraged to vote no on allowing the county commission to exercise countywide growth and land usage which would take the responsibility from the cities.

Mr. Baumgartner said, "You've done an outstanding job and the people of Pahokee are very proud of you."

The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Presidents award went to David Sanders and Marlene Crosby.

Mrs. Crosby was unable to attend the banquet due to illness but Mrs. Jarriel said she would give her the award.

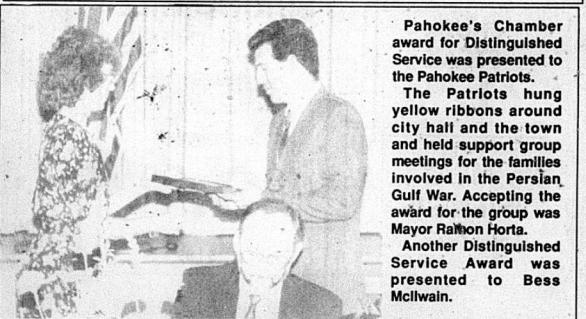

Mr. Sanders accepts the award from this years' President Sandra Jarriel.

Pahokee's Chamber of Commerce Award for volunteer of the year went to Ida Mae Lampi.

Mrs. Lampi is an auxiliary worker at Everglades Memorial Hospital and has put in more than 20,000 hours as a volunteer for the hospital.

Presenting the award to Mrs. Lampi is Vice-President, Pahokee Chamber of Commerce David E. Sanders.

Pahokee's Chamber award for Distinguished Service was presented to the Pahokee Patriots.

The Patriots hung yellow ribbons around city hall and the town and held support group meetings for the families involved in the Persian Gulf War. Accepting the award for the group was Mayor Ramon Horta.

Another Distinguished Service Award was presented to Bess McIlwain.

The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Business of the Year Award went to U.S. Sugar.

Mr. Walter Percy, president of the Bank of Pahokee presented the award to Mr. Ray Moore of U.S. Sugar, front of table.

"U.S. Sugar as of late has been receiving some positive publicity and that makes the citizens of Pahokee extremely happy," said David Baumgartner.

Assistant Principal of Student Services, Wayne Tullos of Glades Central High School has been named to East Central Community College (EC) athlete Hall of Fame. Mr. Tullos' alma mater is located in Decatur, Mississippi.

He broke the national free throw record when he connected on 19 straight attempts in a 1995 contest at Senatobia.

As a result of his clutch scoring ability, center Wayne Tullos was named to the first team All-American squad and is one of only three Warrior basketball players to receive the honor. Other EC All-Americans are Denver Brackeen and the late Howard Sessums.

He was also instrumental in leading the Warriors to the Region 7 Championship and a fourth place finish in the national tournament. In the Regional Title game, EC defeated the Booneville "Five" by a 66-64 margin. The winning points came when "Pee Wee" Crocker hit a jump shot with two seconds remaining. Tullos led the Warriors in scoring with 26 points.

He averaged 25 points per game in his sophomore season

ONE IN FOUR

A government survey showed that one out of four adults in the U.S. had no teeth, in one or both jaws. Of those who had natural teeth remaining, three out of four had signs of gum disease. Sounds like little attention is being paid to prevention.

If you go through life with your teeth, it will be because of things you do. Dentists don't save teeth. People do.

THINK OF THIS:
Nearly everything a dentist does is done to repair breakdown. Repairs are necessary. But, doesn't it make more sense to get at the causes of breakdown so that you don't have to deal with the effects? Treating without preventing is like chasing without catching.

Expect the best. We're here to help you. We'll point the way to better oral hygiene!

WAYNE TULLOS

scoring a total of 850 points. His highest total for a single game was 40 points which he tallied against Wood Junior College.

Mr. Tullos was selected to the first team All Region 7 (MS, TN, KY), and All-State squads along with receiving All American honors.

He led the Warriors to an overall 30-3-1 record during his sophomore year.

Besides being an outstanding athlete, Wayne was also a popular student at East Central and was selected a sophomore favorite.

Before going to EC, Mr. Tullos was an outstanding basketball player at Arlington High School in Neshoba County where he led his team to the state playoffs his senior season.

After he graduated from EC, he continued his athletic career at Mississippi College where he lettered in basketball and track.

Averaging 22 points per game and because of his outstanding rebounding ability, he was known as the "Demon of the Backboards."

He was also undefeated in the high jump competition his senior year and recorded an effort of 6 feet 7 inches.

Mr. Tullos received a bachelor's degree in physical education from Mississippi College in 1957. He was then drafted by the NBA Hawks.

As a professional basketball player, he set a national free throw record by making 21 baskets in only one game.

Later, he was drafted by the "House of David," a professional team that toured the United States and other countries.

Wayne began his coaching career in 1957 at Lake High School where he directed girls and boys basketball squads up until 1965. With his leadership ability, a winning tradition developed. His best season record was 33-3.

In 1963, he was chosen for his outstanding coaching abilities to be one of the two head mentors to direct the South Mississippi All Stars.

In 1965, Wayne moved to Madison, Florida where he served as principal of Pinetta Junior High School.

In 1966, he moved to Belle Glade where he was first employed as Dean of Boys at Belle Glade High School, now called Glades Central High School.

Since he has lived in Florida, Mr. Tullos has completed advanced graduate studies at Florida State University and Florida Atlantic University.

The four loves of his life are his children, Evah, a student at Florida State University who is also employed by Barnett Bank in Tallahassee; Ashley, a junior at Berry College in Rome, Georgia; Leslie, who is employed at John F. Kennedy Hospital, Lake Worth, and Rebecca, a senior at Christian Day School in Belle Glade.

Konchellah is new president of K. Price Foundation

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

Mr. Larry Konchellah has been elected to the office of President of the Katherine Price Foundation, Inc. in Belle Glade.

The Katherine Price Foundation, Inc. was chartered in October 1976, as a private non-profit charitable agency. It now has more than 100 members who elect their own Board of Directors, which meets monthly. It has received tax exempt status from the

I.R.S. for donations.

The Foundation is a home grown operation helping only Glades people.

For over thirty years, Katherine Price, a true pioneer of the Glades used her home to collect furniture, clothing, bedding, kitchen wares and food to help the needy.

Mr. Konchellah said, "Just like everyone else, we need funds to expand so that we may store the generous donations made by Glades residents. This would also give us additional space for beds."

"If we work collectively together we will be able to see some positive results. Homelessness is definitely a major problem here," he continued.

The Foundation has recently embarked on an aggressive membership drive. People can become members by sending a donation or calling the lodge for additional information.

Mr. Konchellah is a volunteer with the foundation and does not receive any compensation for his effort. "It gives me a chance to give something back to the community," he said.

Larry is employed with the State of Florida as a marketing specialist with the labor board. He is also president of the African Connection Export, Inc., his own company which deals with mostly handmade artwork and clothing from Africa.

He is affiliated with various organizations and is vice-chairman of the Palm Beach Community Relations Board; appointed by County

Commissioner Ken Foster; on the advisory committee at West Technical Educational Center and is active with the local chapter of the N.A.C.P.

Mr. Konchellah was born in Kenya, Africa, attended the University of Maryland where he met his wife Cartheda. He said, "I am very proud to Taylor Konchellah who is also very active in the Glades communities. They have four children, Sation, age 14, Reson, age 10, Morio, age 9, and Soila, age 4.

Mr. Konchellah says they he works with a very supportive and hard working board and the board gives so much of their time to the Katherine Price Foundation, Inc.

He said, "I am very proud to Taylor Konchellah who is also a member of their team."

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, such as a powerful blow to the back, or even a violent jolt. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.
